Ania Walwicz was a contemporary Australian poet, playwright, prose writer and visual artist. Walwicz was born in Swidnica, Poland where she spent her childhood, before migrating to Australia in 1963. She attended the Victorian College of the Arts in Melbourne. Her writing tends toward an impressionistic, stream of consciousness exploration of inner states. It also exploits 'appropriative' or 'sampling' techniques of production. Apart from

The infrastructure costs alone are staggering. We will need to spend as much money on infrastructure over the next 40 years as we have since Australia was first colonised – a figure that is estimated by some sources to be around $1.5 trillion. It is already estimated that Australia is already at least five years behind in the infrastructure that it needs and, as successive governments fail to ...
